Foreword

The students of Franklin County High School have many things to be extremely proud of, and through the school have gained many new opportunities and experiences.

There is in each of us a certain feeling for our school—some call it school spirit. Whatever it is called, school spirit is the basic force in the betterment of any school.

For this reason, we have chosen “The Magic of School Spirit” as the theme for the 1958 Animo.

In this edition of the Animo, we have endeavored to give a panoramic view of our high school life as it appears around the campus.

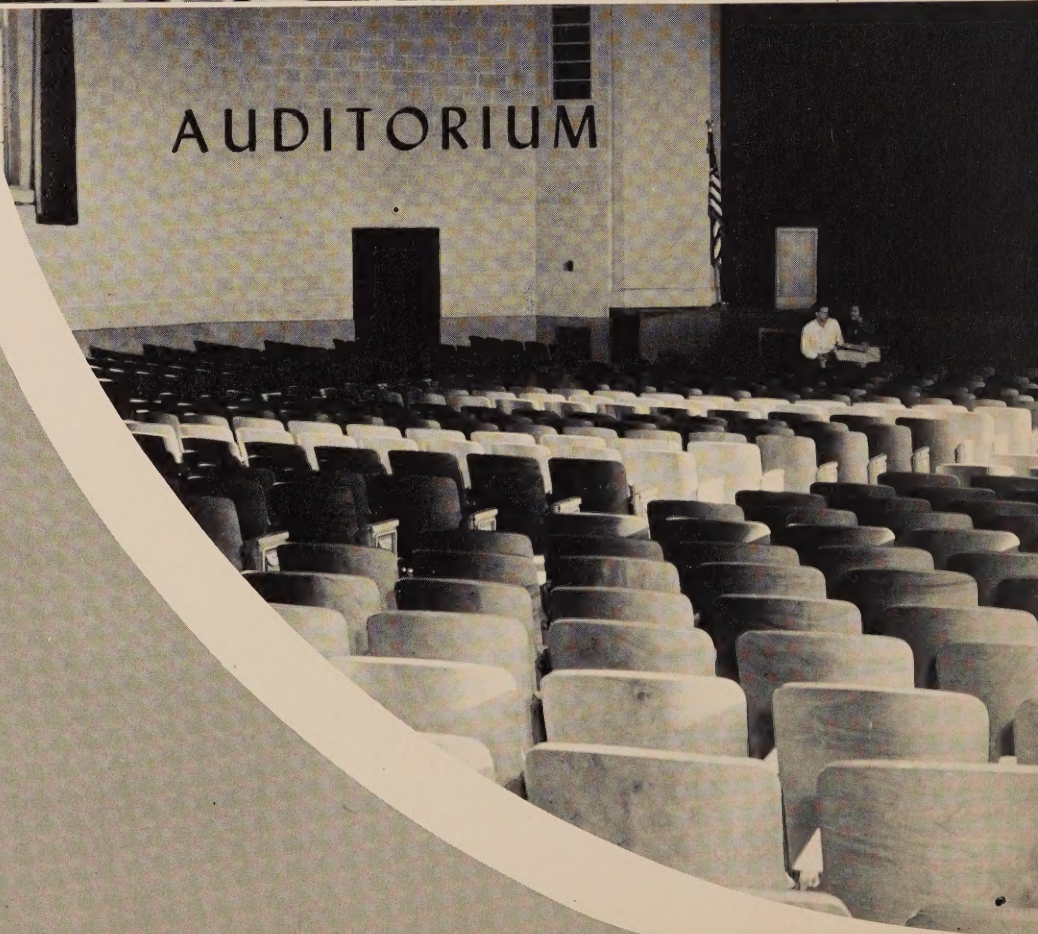

May this book help keep our school spirit alive.

Spirited Doings -

The spirit of Franklin County High School is reflected in many phases of school life—on the campus, athletic field, in our classrooms and in outside activities.

Every student is willing to give his support and talents to make our school the best possible. This willingness has helped achieve a new school building, a choir, band, and a lighted athletic field.

The students enthusiasm has spread to our patrons and businessmen of Franklin County so that they stand behind us in our every effort for improvements.

Buddy Brooks gives a report to his class in the Agriculture building classroom.

Our school maintains a clinic for those who become ill during the day.

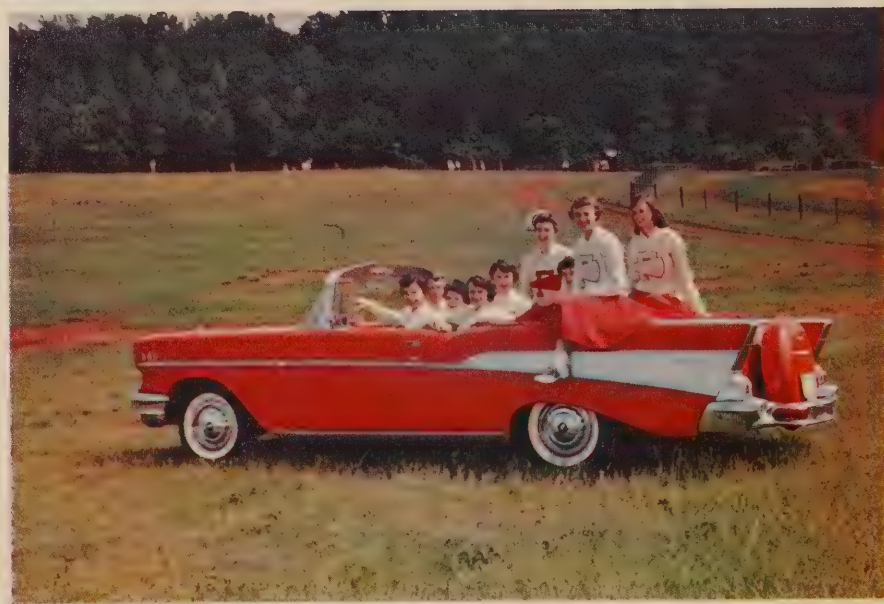

Kitty Cooper buys paper during the change of classes.

Students checking by office for absentee slips.

Archery is one phase of girl's physical education classes.

The Cheer Leaders are ready to lead the Homecoming Parade.

Franklin County High School Band

Danny Boone, Mary Jo Turner, and Betty Quinn enjoy a short chat during lunch.

Dedication

In appreciation of his willingness to help, his patience and sincerity—his praise and criticism—his love for Franklin County High School—and his ability to counsel . . . we fondly dedicate the 1958 Animo to . . .

The "Master Wizards" in our school life spend many hours in the planning for each student at Franklin County High School. They keep us on the right path through expert counseling; they have led us to acquire knowledge; they have encouraged us when difficulties and disappointments came. FACULTY

Our fifty-six faculty members have contributed much of their time as advisors to our organizations and as leaders in our classrooms to give to each student his share from the magic lamp of learning. They are, in truth, the magical genie; for, from their knowledge and experience they enable us to prepare for the future.

Second year typing students develop speed and accuracy.

Audrey Robertson, Frances Anderson, and Sandra Tuckloff prepare a D.E. display in the auditorium showcase.

A course in General Business helps these students prepare for office work.

Mrs. Altizer is taking advantage of the muscles of the physical education boys to return borrowed articles to the auditorium.

The purpose of the speech class is to teach students the fundamentals of good speech and an appreciation of both ancient and modern plays.

Mrs. Payne and third period choir section sight-read new music.

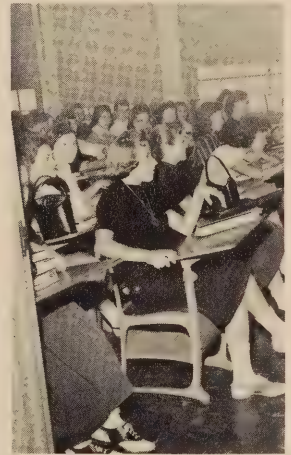

Carolyn Hundley, Sarah Mills, Judy Perdue, and Pat Hudson find time for sectional rehearsal once a week.

The library, with an abundance of material on varied subjects, offers a quiet place for study and research.

While the students are in class, the main hall seems almost deserted.

Health education is an important part of the curriculum of these fifth period girls.

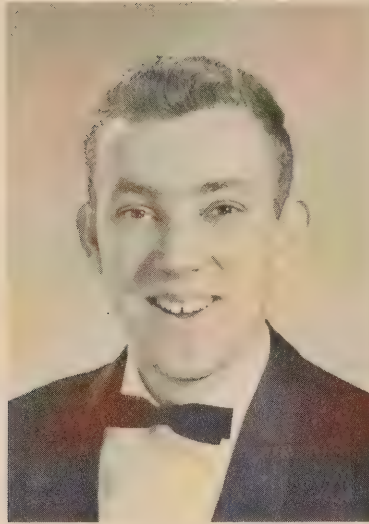

The Senior Class chose the following officers to lead them through the year 1957-58.
Linda Williams, Vice-President
Harold Bowman, president
Suzanne Martin, secretary and treasurer.

THE SENIOR CLASS

"We are the class of '58." We are being launched in the world along with Sputnik, Explorer, Salk vaccine, and yes, even the "Ivy League." The magic of the four years will always be with us. The thrill of the homecoming game, the swirl of the red skirts, soft light on filmy dresses under a canopy of color, hoppin' at the hops, second bells, cherry cobbler, bake sales, term papers, homework, Chaucer and Shakespeare, and the wonderful cap and gown . . .

Now "dear Alma Mater, hear our pledge of loyalty to knowledge, truth and freedom's light" as we leave our youth and the magic that is school.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

Our Junior year is one to be remembered. There are the joys and hard work of decorating for the prom, ushering for graduation and the task of deciding how to fit study, clubs, sports, church activities, and duties at home into ten working hours each day.

Catering to the seniors wasn't too bad since we were looking forward to being catered to next year.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

Although Edison was called a "wizard", he was not a man of mystery. In school fashion he was a persistent and practical worker.

As we sophomores follow in the steps of our upperclassmen, we are mindful of the fact that we will be the upperclassmen in the future years. We must be persistent and practical workers. We know that it cannot be accomplished by magic; however, with the proper school spirit and hard work, we will meet our goal. As Edison said, "Genius is 1% inspiration and 99% perspiration."

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

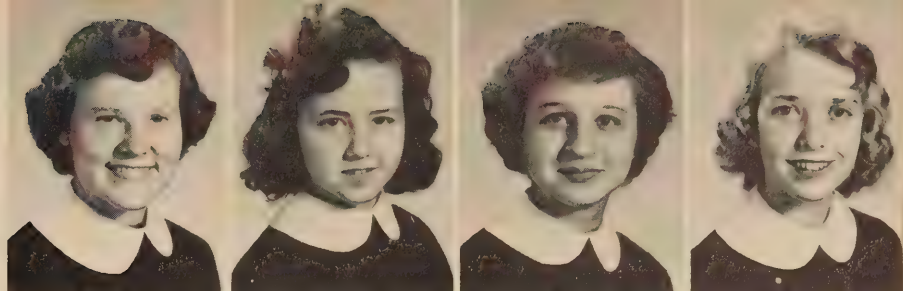

This year we freshmen have felt more a part of F. C. H. S. than ever before. We are beginning to see how much work we must do to be proud seniors.

However, it takes more than work to get through high school. There must be co-operation, school spirit, and a true willingness to learn.

We are trying to follow our upperclassmen in making Franklin County a better high school.

Posed in front of the Colonial Capital are the one-hundred students, teachers, chaperones and bus drivers who took a three-day trip to Richmond, Williamsburg and Jamestown in May, 1957.

The students and Miss Carroll have the privilege of meeting Governor Stanley.

THE EIGHTH GRADE

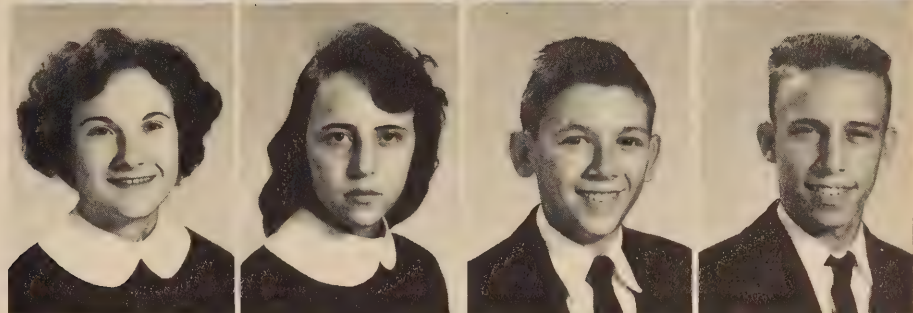

We as eighth graders are on the bottom round. We realize we aren't the first to be on this bottom round and there will be others to take our place. However, there are many hard and long steps before reaching the top. We know it cannot be done without work and co-operation of each one. If we have the proper school spirit, the task will be easier and we will climb those steps with magical ease.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Cooperative Association of FCHS is composed of the entire student body. This larger body elects a smaller group, the Student Council, whose members are the club presidents and homeroom presidents. The Student Council meets bi-weekly to discuss the problems of the SCA and suggest possible solutions.

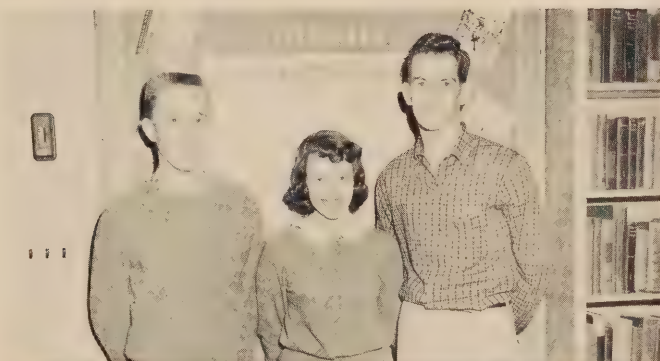

The SCA of Franklin County High is working toward the following aims and objectives for the school session of 1957-58: 1. To sponsor the annual magazine sales campaign 2. To develop an effective orientation program 3. To set up a bulletin board where clubs and organizations might list their activities as they are scheduled 4. To have an installation ceremony for Student Council officers 5. To be host to the Danville District SCA meeting 6. To offer to take part in PTA programs and activities 7. To hold a model Student Council meeting for the student body 8. To sponsor the annual school chest drive 9. To sponsor College Day 10. To meet requirements for receiving the SCA Achievement Award 11. To sponsor student buses to ball games played away from home 12. To provide hall monitors during lunch periods 13. To run a candidate for State SCA Vice-President 14. To send delegates to the district and state SCA conventions, summer workshop, and the Miller and Rhodes Forum in Richmond 15. To lead a discussion group at the State SCA Convention 16. To sponsor a School Chest Drive Dance.

The SCA was capably led by Danny Brown, Treasurer; Carol Duke, Secretary; Dick Jamison, Vice-President; Emily Davis, President. Mr. Law and Mr. Kent served as advisors for the group.

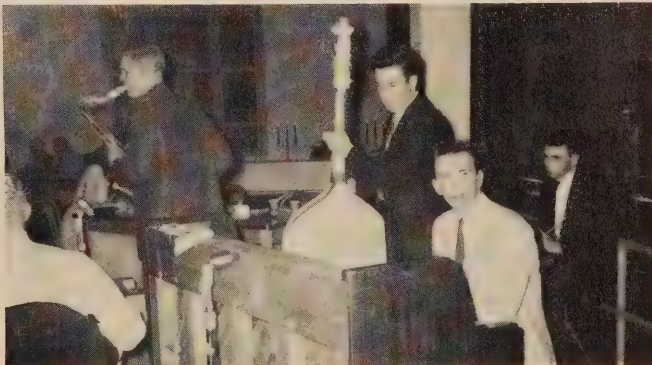

The delegates to the SCA State Convention were Cordell Bowman, Emily Davis, and Jimmy Jamison.

Those who directed the magazine sales campaign were team captains Jimmy Jamison, Bill Alexander and Danny Brown.

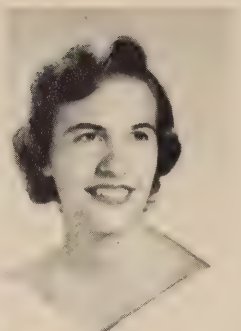

"The Flames" donated their talent for the School Chest Drive Dance.

The Franklin County High School Choir has been striving in past years to promote interest and enthusiasm in choral music. The choir has participated in both civic and church programs.

Some of our performances were at the Woodlawn Baptist Church, the Rocky Mount Baptist Church, the Danville District S.C.A. Meeting, Boones Mill P.T.A., Annual Christmas Parade, and several others.

The joint Christmas program with the Band and Dramatics Club, a combination Spring concert with the bands, and the various graduation exercises were highlights of the year.

The procession is led by the choir at the Christmas assembly.

The choir and band supplied the music for the joint assembly with the Dramatics Club.

Did That!
The "Trio" composed of Emma Baker Dillon, Carol Smith, and Diane Bennett have sung at many school activities during the year.

Joyce Milliron, Maxine Bowling, Charles Poindexter, and Charles Dillon represented the choir at the All-State West Chorus.

The Dramatics Club of Franklin County High School, now in its fifth year, is currently engaged in preparation for its fifth major production, "The Loud Red Patrick." The actual achievements of the Dramatics Club are not just those visible on the night of performance. During the past five years the club has taken in and spent over $2,000.00 for stage and dressing room equipment and for the production of its plays. In addition to offering valuable experience to its members, the club is furnishing an outlet for hundreds of hours of rehearsal and scenic work to the students at FCHS. A large store of scenery and stage props have been accumulated over this period and this supply is continually increasing. The Dramatics Club will endeavor to continue its usefulness to the school and community through its public presentation of good stage scripts.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

Carol Duke
President

The Franklin County High School Chapter of the Future Teachers of America is the youngest addition to the roster of extra-curricular activities in our school. Organized last fall, this club promises to serve an increasing need for teachers and to render a continuing series of services to FCHS.

The charter group consists of 20 members. This group has adopted a constitution which is similar to that suggested by the Virginia Education Association and the National Education Association, the parent bodies of the Future Teachers of America. The chief objective of the Future Teachers of America is to acquaint students with some of the problems and techniques of the teaching profession. Other objectives are (1) an annual project day, (2) the building of a club library comprised of current films, periodicals, pamphlets, journals, and books. During this year of organization, however, the charter group has felt that its primary responsibility has been to formulate a policy, based on its constitution, which would insure creative, profitable, and successful experiences for the club in years to come.

Music has an important place in the school and every phase of life. It is the objective of this club to fulfill our part of the musical needs of our school and community.

Since music is appropriate almost everywhere, piano students are able to participate in many of the programs for the year. Students of the county are taught to help in the musical programs of their churches. Accompanists for the school choir are usually taken from the club.

Every year the Piano Club has a special project which will benefit the school. Plans are now being formulated for the purchase of an organ for the school auditorium.

The Franklin County Chapter of the Future Farmers of America is a small part of a national organization of, by, and for boys studying vocational agriculture in public secondary schools. No national student organization enjoys greater freedom of self government under adult counsel and guidance, than the Future Farmers of America.

The F. F. A. is an extra-curricular activity having its origin and root in a definite part of the school curriculum—vocational agriculture. Among other things, members learn through active participation how to conduct and take part in a public meeting, to speak in public, to buy and sell co-operatively, to solve their own problems, to finance themselves, and to assume civic responsibility. The foundation upon which the Future Farmers of America organization is built, includes leadership and character development, sportsmanship, co-operation, service, thrift, scholarship, improved agriculture, organized recreation, citizenship and patriotism.

Delightful entertainment was presented in a floor show by the cheer leaders, Jackie Whitsel, Joyce Milliron, and Lynne Davis.

Franklin's Eagles may consider the '57 football season a victorious one. The team sported a 6-2 district record and a 7-3 over-all record. Team effort and determination were the prime factors for the many victories although the Eagles were handicapped in every game by weight and speed.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Managers Gerald Hall and Norman McGhee with Coach Steve Richards.

If the Franklin Eagles' basketball team is to be noted for games won as opposed to games lost, it may not be rated very highly this season; however, team ratings are not necessarily reflected in standing alone. It is extremely easy to stay with a winning team. It takes an awful lot to have enough determination to stay with a loser and put forth every effort to better the team at the same time.

We can be proud of the attitude the boys have shown this season. After observing different winning teams, it makes one wonder what the price of victory really is. No one likes to lose, and we can only hope that our program expands and puts us in the position of having team ratings equal to others in our area. As to competition, sportsmanship, and attitude, this year's team can walk with heads as high as any team on any level!

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Co-Captains Jo Ann Davis and Donna Harris discuss strategy with Coach Brankley and Manager Worley before game time.

During the 1957-58 basketball season the girl's basketball team of Franklin County High School didn't come out on the long end of high scoring, but showed sportsmanship and game tactics in every situation they came up against.

In district competition the girls won two out of seven district games and lost the only non-district game.

High scorers for the season were Jo Ann Davis with a total of 107 points and Donna Harris with a total of 101 points.

The guards were constantly on the alert for rebounds and interceptions, giving our forwards the ball when we needed points.

Although our spirits were dampened from losses, we still did not lose that team spirit that we had in the beginning of the season. We were always in there giving our opponents stiff competition.

BASEBALL

The Eagles resumed interscholastic baseball after a year's lapse and fielded a strong team. It was their first season of night baseball and they compiled a good record with eight wins and six losses. Most of the losses came in the latter part of the season after the squad had lost several key players due to injuries and other causes.
